The County of San Bernardino's Department of Fleet Management is requesting funds from INVEST Clean's Heavy Duty Charging Infrastructure Program Measure 1 (PA#2026-03) at 210 N. Lena Road. This site is located in an SB535 Designated Disadvantaged Community (or DAC) census tract, making it a priority area for greenhouse gas and air pollution reduction efforts for the state. The project is envisioned in two parts comprising the overall EV charging project for goods movement. "Part A" leverages the existing infrastructure on site to cost effectively install DC Fast Charging using spare site capacity, whereas "Part B" installs a dedicated new SCE meter to provide the additional DC Fast Charging capacity needed for the County's Class 4-8 fleet. Part A would consist of six DC Fast Charging single "plugs" or dispensers, and Part B would consist of 24 DC Fast Charging single dispensers. To provide further decarbonization benefits to this project, as well as bill savings, the County has planned to install solar PV and Battery Energy Storage (BESS) in addition to the DC Fast Charging at their Lena Road Complex. This site functions as part of San Bernardino County's government facilities complex and supports the Fleet Management Department, Fire Department Garage, and Public Works as an existing fleet depot, with a majority of their 2470 vehicles passing through or parking overnight at this depot. The County Fleet includes 438 class 4-8 vehicles that support goods movement in and around the 20,105 square mile county, the largest county in the contiguous United States. Goods movement for County purposes includes the transport of medical and emergency supplies, fuel and maintenance materials, construction and infrastructure materials, parks and facilities equipment, public safety and law enforcement gear, and administrative and program related cargo which are critical to the County's ability to provide services to the public. If electrified, it is estimated that the County's Class 4-8 vehicles would consume 5.2 GWh of electricity, reducing fuel-related emissions by almost 3,800 metric tons of CO₂e on an annual basis. Despite the recent relaxing of California Air Resources Board's Advanced Clean Fleet (ACF) regulation, the County has demonstrated an unwavering commitment towards decarbonization and fleet electrification by adhering to their original compliance plan deadlines. However, there exists a significant funding gap for installing the EV charging infrastructure necessary to support an electrified goods movement fleet. INVEST CLEAN funding for this charging infrastructure project is crucial to the decarbonization of the County's goods movement fleet and will allow for a more aggressive zero emission fleet transition plan. Proposed project "Part A – Behind the Existing Meter" includes the installation of one Kempower 400kW distributed charging station system with one power cabinet and six single port dispensers at 210 N. Lena Road. Each dispenser has a maximum charging power of up to 400 kW. This project would be installed behind the existing San Bernardino County Fleet Management electrical meter leveraging spare site capacity and thus would not require a site power upgrade. These initial 6 DCFC ports are the most cost-effective solution for goods movement fleet charging for San Bernardino County. This project also envisions solar PV and BESS to offset both EV charging and facility costs while generating carbon free electricity and controlling grid facing demand. This solution provides for a 400kW fast opportunity charging for vehicles passing through the Lena Rd. depot which need to return to service quickly and, using the same infrastructure, is also able to leverage dynamic power management to charge multiple connected vehicles at 25-400kW according to the requests of the individual vehicles and other factors, such as power availability and cost. Proposed project "Part B – New Meter" includes the installation of four Kempower 400kW distributed charging station systems with a total of four power cabinets and 24 single port charging dispensers at 210 N.

Brief Description of Project	Lena Road drawing a maximum of 1600kW in total. Each dispenser has a maximum charging power of up to 400 kW. This project would be installed behind a new Southern California Edison Meter which provides the additional charging capacity needed to facilitate the remainder of the County's class 4-8 vehicles This project also envisions solar PV and BESS to offset both EV charging and facility costs while generating carbon free electricity and controlling grid facing demand. Does the project site require upgrades to bring additional power?	Yes
