CHAPTER 84.01: ACCESSORY STRUCTURES AND USES

84.01.010 Purpose and Severability.

- 1 84.01.020 General Development Standards.
- 2 84.01.030 Agricultural Accessory Structures and Uses.
- 3 84.01.040 Commercial and Industrial Accessory Structures and Uses.
- 4 84.01.050 Residential Accessory Structures and Uses.

5 Section 84.01.010 Purpose and Severability.

6 This Chapter establishes the regulations and criteria that determine the location of 7 compatible accessory structures and uses within various land use zoning districts. The 8 purpose of this Chapter is also intended to provide for the creation of accessory dwelling
9 units and junior accessory dwelling units in accordance with applicable state law. If for 10 any reason any provision in this Chapter is declared invalid, then all other provisions shall 11 remain valid and enforceable.

12 Section 84.01.020 General Development Standards.

13 (a) Land Use Zoning District Regulations Applicable. Unless otherwise 14 provided, accessory structures and uses shall be subject to the same regulations as the 15 primary structure or use, including projections into setbacks specified in section 83.02.080
16 (Allowed Projections).

17 (b) Legally Established Primary Use. An accessory structure or use shall 18 always exist in conjunction with, and never without, a legally established primary structure
19 or primary use that has the same common owner. Where the primary use is a residence, 20 it shall not be enclosed within an accessory structure. Where the primary use has not yet
21 been established, an accessory structure may only be built subject to the issuance of a

27 specifically provided for by this Chapter or elsewhere within this Development Code, each 28 land use shall be deemed to include other accessory uses that are necessarily and

1 customarily associated with and are clearly incidental and subordinate to the primary land
2 use. Whenever the accessory uses are questioned, the Director shall be responsible for 3 determining if a proposed accessory use meets the criteria in this Chapter. Before making 4 a determination, the Director shall give notice to contiguous property owners in 5 compliance with section 85.02.030 (Staff Review with Notice).

6 (e) Maximum Site Coverage. Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, the 7 combination of accessory and primary structures on a parcel shall not exceed the 8 maximum site coverage allowed by the applicable land use zoning district regulations in 9 Division 2 (Land Use Zoning Districts and Allowed Land Uses).

10 (f) Location on Same or Contiguous Parcel. Accessory structures or uses, 11 which may or may not entail the use of a structure, shall be located on either:

12 (1) The same parcel as the primary structure or use; or

13 (2) A contiguous parcel that is owned by the same owner who owns the 14 parcel that has the primary structure or use, with the exception of:

15 (A) Guest housing and accessory dwelling units in compliance
16 with section 84.01.050(a), below.

18 when the lines are projected across public or private rights of way, easements, roads,
19 streets, or railroad rights of way.

20 (C) Utilities shall not be constructed across the property line(s) of 21 two or more contiguous parcels. If the placement of proposed utilities would otherwise 22 cross the property line of two or more contiguous parcels held by the same owner, the 23 property owner shall apply for and receive an approved voluntary lot merger before 24 issuance of a building permit.

25 Section 84.01.030 Agricultural Accessory Structures and Uses.

The purpose of this Chapter is to implement Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 66310) of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code by establishing regulations for the permitting and development of accessory dwelling units and junior accessory dwelling units.

Section 84.36.020 Applicability.

The standards of this Chapter shall apply to accessory dwelling units and junior accessory dwelling units where allowed in compliance with Division 2 (Land Use Zoning Districts and Allowed Land Uses) of this Development Code.

Section 84.36.030 Definitions.

The definitions of specific terms in this Chapter are intended to supplement the

1 definitions in Government Code Section 66313. To the extent an inconsistency exists, the 2 definitions in Government Code Section 66313 shall prevail unless it is determined from 3 the context of this Chapter that the definition was intended to be more restrictive. For 4 purposes of this Chapter:

5 (a) "Accessory dwelling unit" means an attached or detached residential 6 dwelling unit, not considered to exceed the allowable density of the parcel, that provides 7 complete independent living facilities for one or more persons with permanent provisions 8 for living, sleeping, eating, cooking, and sanitation on the same parcel that the single-
9 family or multifamily proposed or existing dwelling is situated. An accessory dwelling unit
10 can include an efficiency unit, as defined in Section 17958.1 of the Health and Safety
11 Code, and a manufactured home, as defined in Section 18007 of the Health and Safety
12 Code.

13 (b) "Existing primary dwelling" means a legally permitted and constructed 14 primary single-family residence.

15 (c) "Junior accessory dwelling unit" means a unit that is no more than 500
16 square feet of interior livable space in size and contained entirely within a single-family
17 residence. A junior accessory dwelling unit may include separate sanitation facilities or 18 may share sanitation facilities with the proposed or existing structure and shall comply 19 with the requirements set forth in Section 66333 of the Government Code.

20 (d) "Livable space" means a space in a dwelling intended for human habitation,
21 including living, sleeping, eating, cooking, or sanitation.

22 (e) "Primary dwelling" means the single-family dwelling that serves as the 23 primary residence for the lot.

24 (f) "Proposed primary dwelling" means a structure that is the subject of an 25 active building permit application that meets the requirements for permitting a single-26 family residence or has received building permit approval but has not yet received an 27 occupancy permit.

28 Section 84.36.040 Types of Units Allowed.

1 (a) Accessory Dwelling Units on Single-Family Lots. The following types of 2 accessory dwelling unit are authorized on a lot where allowed in compliance with Division
3 2 (Land Use Zoning Districts and Allowed Land Uses) of this Development Code.

4 (1) Attached Unit. An accessory dwelling unit that structurally abuts and 5 is attached to an existing or proposed primary dwelling. An attached unit may be 6 constructed on the side, top, or below the existing or proposed primary dwelling.

7 (2) Detached Unit. An accessory dwelling unit that is physically
8 separated from the existing or proposed primary dwelling. A detached accessory dwelling 9 unit shall be deemed the primary dwelling if its floor area exceeds that of the existing 10 primary dwelling.

11 (3) Converted Existing Structure or Space. An accessory dwelling unit 12 that is created from an existing space within an existing or proposed primary dwelling
13 (e.g., basement, attic, attached garage, storage area, or similar area) or an existing space 14 of an accessory structure (e.g., detached garage, shed, storage structure, or other similar 15 existing accessory structure) on the same lot as the primary dwelling. This may include 16 an existing primary dwelling that is converted to an accessory dwelling unit when a larger 17 primary dwelling is established, though the converted dwelling shall still be limited in size 18 to 1,200 square feet.

19 (b) Junior Accessory Dwelling Unit on Single-Family Lots. A junior accessory
20 dwelling unit contained entirely within the walls of an existing or proposed single-family 21 residence.

22 (c) Multifamily Accessory Dwelling Unit. An accessory dwelling unit that may 23 be allowed on a lot zoned for multifamily residence and is either attached, detached, or 24 located within the portions of an existing multifamily dwelling that are not used as livable
25 space (e.g., storage rooms, boiler rooms, passageways, attics, basements, garages).

26 Section 84.36.050 Process and Review Procedures.

27 (a) Ministerial Review. A permit for an accessory dwelling unit or junior 28 accessory dwelling unit is considered and approved ministerially, without discretionary

1 review or hearing, notwithstanding the need for a variance or special use permit.

2 (b) Processing Times. Within 15 business days of submission, the Department
3 will assess whether an application for an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory
4 dwelling unit is complete and, if incomplete, provide notice of this determination and a
5 detailed list of missing items based on the submittal criteria. Upon resubmittal of required
6 materials, the Department shall have 15 business days to review the resubmittal and 7 determine whether the application is complete. The Department shall approve or deny
8 the application for an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit within 60
9 days of the date the Department received a complete application if there is an existing 10 primary dwelling or multifamily dwelling on the lot. If an application to create an accessory 11 dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit is submitted concurrently with a permit to 12 create a new primary dwelling or multifamily dwelling on the lot, the 60-day review period 13 can be delayed until the primary dwelling or multifamily dwelling receives approval or if 14 the delay is requested in writing by the applicant.

15 (1) Pre-Approved Plans. The Director, in consultation with the Building
16 Official, shall adopt and maintain a preapproved building plan for a detached accessory
17 dwelling unit consistent with the current triennial California Building Standards Code
18 rulemaking cycle. The preapproved plan, along with the contact information of an 19 applicant that obtained approval of an accessory dwelling unit using a preapproved plan, 20 shall be posted on the Department's website in accordance with Section 65852.27 of the 21 Government Code.

22 (A) An application for a detached accessory dwelling unit that 23 utilizes a preapproved plan adopted by the Director within the current triennial California
24 Building Standards Code rulemaking cycle, or a plan identical to a plan approved by the 25 Director within the current triennial California Building Standards Code rulemaking cycle,
26 shall be ministerially approved or denied within 30 days of the date the Department
27 receives a complete application.

28 (B) An applicant shall pay the same permitting fees that the

1 County charges an applicant seeking approval for the same-sized accessory dwelling unit
2 when reviewing and approving the submission of a preapproved accessory dwelling unit 3 plan.

4 (c) Nonconforming Conditions. The Department shall not require, as a
5 condition of ministerial approval of a permit application for the creation of an accessory
6 dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit, the correction of nonconforming conditions.
7 An application for an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit submitted
8 to correct nonconforming zoning conditions, building code violations, or unpermitted 9 structures that do not present a threat to public health and safety and are not affected by 10 the construction of the accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit shall not 11 be denied. Nonconforming zoning condition means a physical improvement on a property 12 that does not conform to current zoning standards.

13 (d) Unpermitted Junior and Accessory Dwelling Units. The Department shall 14 not deny a permit for an unpermitted accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling
15 unit that was constructed before January 1, 2020, for the reasons set forth in Government
16 Code Section 66332, subdivision (a). Notwithstanding the above, the Department may 17 deny a permit for an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit if the 18 Building Official makes a finding that correcting the violation is necessary to comply with 19 the standards specified in Section 17920.3 of the Health and Safety Code or the 20 accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit is attached or within a building
21 that is deemed substandard pursuant to Section 17920.3 of the Health and Safety Code.

22 (e) Legal Nonconforming Accessory Dwelling Unit. The expansion of a legal 23 nonconforming structure or use associated with an accessory dwelling unit shall be 24 subject to the provisions of Division 2 (Land Use Zoning Districts and Allowed Land Uses)
25 and Section 84.17.080 (Alteration of Nonconforming Uses) of this Development Code.

26 (f) Sewer. Written confirmation from the sewer district having jurisdiction of the 27 availability of sewer service for the accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling 28 unit, or written approval from Environmental Health Services for use on an existing or new septic system, shall be obtained prior to the issuance of a permit for the creation of an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit. Holding tanks shall not be permitted for an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit.

(g) Water. Written confirmation from the water district having jurisdiction of the availability of water service for the accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit, or written approval from Environmental Health Services for use of an existing or new well, shall be obtained prior to the issuance of a permit for the creation of an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit.

(h) Fire Safety. Written confirmation from the applicable fire district or fire authority having jurisdiction shall be required prior to the issuance of a permit for the creation of an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit.

(i) Grading. Approval of site drainage, ingress, and egress requirements from the Department shall be required prior to the issuance of a permit for the creation of an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit.

(j) Garage Demolitions. Review and issuance of a demolition permit for a detached garage that is to be replaced with an accessory dwelling unit shall be reviewed and issued at the same time with the application for the creation of an accessory dwelling unit.

(k) Flood Protection. An accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit located within a floodplain safety overlay shall comply with Chapter 82.14 (Floodplain Safety Overlay), including but not limited to elevating the lowest finished floor to the required elevation.

Section 84.36.060 Rental Terms, Occupancy, and Common Ownership.

(a) Rental Terms. An accessory dwelling unit and junior accessory dwelling unit may be rented separately from the primary dwelling or multifamily dwelling in all regions of the County, subject to the following criteria:

(1) Long-Term Rentals. In all regions of the County, an accessory dwelling unit may be rented for a term longer than 30 consecutive days. The rental of a

1 junior accessory dwelling unit shall be for a term longer than 30 consecutive days in all
2 regions of the County.

3 (2) Short-Term Rentals. In the Mountain and Desert Regions of the 4 County, an accessory dwelling unit may be rented for a term less than 30 consecutive 5 days, provided the short-term rental unit complies with Chapter 84.28 (Short-Term
6 Residential Rentals) and is not a unit constructed pursuant to section 84.36.080(b).

7 (b) Occupancy. Owner occupancy shall not be required for an accessory
8 dwelling unit. A junior accessory dwelling unit shall require owner-occupancy in the 9 existing or proposed single-family residence in which the junior accessory dwelling unit
10 will be permitted. The owner may reside in either the remaining portion of the single-family
11 residence or the newly created junior accessory dwelling unit. Owner-occupancy shall not 12 be required if the junior accessory dwelling unit has separate sanitation facilities, or if the 13 owner is another governmental agency, land trust, or housing organization. The 14 recordation of a deed restriction, which shall run with the land, shall be filed with the 15 County Recorder's Office for an application associated with a junior accessory dwelling 16 unit and shall include both of the following:

17 (1) A prohibition on the sale of the junior accessory dwelling unit
18 separate from the sale of the existing or proposed primary dwelling, including a statement 19 that the deed restriction may be enforced against future purchasers.

20 (2) A restriction on the size and attributes of the junior accessory
21 dwelling unit that conforms with this Chapter.

22 (c) Separate Conveyance. The separate sale or conveyance of an accessory
23 dwelling unit of any type is prohibited except when authorized in accordance with Section
24 66431 of the Government Code.

25 Section 84.36.070 Development Standards.

26 (a) Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, the development standards 27 for an accessory dwelling unit and junior accessory dwelling unit shall comply with the 28 requirements set forth in Table 84-0 (ADU Building Form) and the restrictions provided herein.

(1) Land Use Zoning District Regulations. An accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit shall comply with all development standards of the land use zoning district in which it is located.

(1)	The standards set forth in this table shall not preclude the construction of an ADU with a total floor area limitation of not more than 800 square feet of livable space with four-foot side and rear yard setbacks.

(6)	A junior accessory dwelling unit must be contained entirely within the existing space of the single-family residence.

(9)	Notwithstanding the 5 foot minimum separation requirement, separation between structures shall comply with the latest California Building Code adopted by the County. Where a property is located within a Fire Safety (FS) Overlay, the standards of Chapter 82.13 (Fire Safety Overlay) shall apply.
(10)	The height requirements shall not allow for the construction of a unit greater than two-stories.

(11) An additional two feet in height may be allowed, provided that the roof of the ADU matches the roof pitch of the proposed or existing primary dwelling.

(13) Where the property is less than 0.50 acres with an existing primary residence, an Advanced Treatment System designed to accommodate each additional dwelling is subject to approval by Environmental Health Services for the additional dwelling.

Section 84.36.080 Development Standards Exemptions.

(a) Development Standards Exemptions. An accessory dwelling unit and a junior accessory dwelling unit are exempt from the following standards:

(1) Fire Sprinklers. Fire sprinklers shall not be required for an accessory dwelling unit and junior accessory dwelling unit if they are not required for the primary dwelling.

(2) Utility Connections. Unless an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit is constructed with a new primary dwelling, new or separate utility connections shall not be required and shall not be subject to a separate utility connection fee or capacity charge if constructed from existing space of the primary dwelling or accessory structure. This shall not apply to lots served by a septic system and an individual domestic well.

(3) Parking. The parking requirements for an accessory dwelling unit, as set forth in Table 84-0 (ADU Building Form), shall not apply in any of the following instances:

(A) The unit is considered a junior accessory dwelling unit.

(E) When on-street parking permits are required but not offered to the occupant of the accessory dwelling unit.

(F) When a car share vehicle is located within one block of the accessory dwelling unit.

(G) When a garage, carport, or covered parking structure is demolished in conjunction with the construction of an accessory dwelling unit or converted into an accessory dwelling unit, the off-street covered parking does not need to be replaced.

(H) When a permit application for an accessory dwelling unit is submitted with a permit application to create a new primary dwelling or a new multifamily dwelling on the same lot, provided that the accessory dwelling unit or parcel satisfies any of the criteria listed in this subdivision.

(b) By-Right Permitting Exemptions. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, an application for a building permit for an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit authorized by Division 2 (Land Use Zoning Districts and Allowed Land Uses) shall be approved to create any of the following:

(1) One accessory dwelling unit and one junior accessory dwelling unit per lot with a proposed or existing primary dwelling if all of the following apply:

(A) The accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit is within the proposed space of a primary dwelling or existing space of a primary dwelling or accessory structure. 21 Section 66321 of the Government Code, as applicable, and rear yard and side setbacks
22 of no more than four feet:

28 Section 84.36.090 Severability.

The Director, in consultation with County Counsel, shall have the authority to waive any provision of this Chapter to the extent the Director determines that any section, sentence, clause, phrase, or portion thereof is inconsistent with Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 66310) of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code, as may be amended from time to time, as applied to an application for an accessory dwelling unit or junior accessory dwelling unit. If, for any reason, any portion of this Chapter is determined by the Director to be inconsistent with Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 66310) of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code, then the applicable State law shall provide the controlling development standard and all other provisions of this Chapter shall remain valid and enforceable.
