C. Definitions

- 1. Substance Use Disorder Primary Prevention Data Quality Standards and Definitions (PPDQS) The Substance Abuse Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) and the PPDQS, have classified prevention strategies into six categories. The definitions, along with practical examples of the application, of each strategy are provided below and are taken from 45 CFR 96.125.
 - Information Dissemination Strategy Provides awareness and knowledge a. of the nature and extent of alcohol, tobacco, and drug use, abuse and addiction, and their effects on individuals, families, and communities. It also provides knowledge and awareness of available prevention programs and services. Information dissemination is characterized as "One-way" communication from the source to the audience, with limited contact between the two. A message is delivered, but there is little opportunity for an exchange of information with those who receive the message. Examples of this strategy include print and electronic media, speaking resource directories, clearinghouses, engagements, fairs/promotions. In an effort to collect the best possible prevention related data, California does not collect demographics for Information dissemination type services/activities as they are generally estimated figures with no documented basis.
 - b. Education Strategy Involves two-way communication and is distinguished from the Information Dissemination Strategy by the fact that interaction between the educator/ facilitator and the participants is the basis of its activities. Activities under this strategy aim to affect critical life and social skills, including decision making, refusal skills, critical analysis, and systemic judgement abilities. Approaches used in this strategy involve some form of education to enhance individual efforts to remain free from substance misuse. However, not all activities within this strategy need to be conducted by a teacher or in a classroom/school setting.

- c. Alternatives Strategy Provides for the participation of target populations in activities that exclude alcohol, tobacco, and other drug use. The assumption is that constructive and healthy activities offset the attraction to or otherwise meet the needs usually filled by alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs and would, therefore, minimize or remove the need to use these substances. Alternative activities and programs redirect individuals from potentially problematic settings and activities to situations free from the influence of substances of misuse.
- d. Problem Identification and Referral Strategy Aimed at identification of those individuals who have indulged in illegal/age-inappropriate use of tobacco or alcohol and those individuals who have indulged in the first use of illicit substances and to assess whether their behavior can be reversed through education. It should be noted, however, that this strategy does not include any activity designed to determine if a person is in need of treatment. A key aspect of this strategy is that the services and/or activities are geared toward behavioral change, not therapy for substance use disorder treatment. There is a potential for some of the services within this strategy to bridge into treatment. It is important that Providers are aware that administration of addiction diagnosis and severity instruments, case management, and/or preparation for treatment intervention are not a component of this strategy and cannot be funded with SUBG Block Grant primary prevention set-aside dollars.
- e. Community-Based Process Strategy Aims to enhance the ability of the community to more effectively provide prevention services for substance use disorders. Activities in this strategy include organizing, planning, and enhancing the efficiency and effectiveness of service implementation, interagency collaboration, coalition building, and networking. This strategy very closely aligns with a broad range of activities such as assessment, capacity building, planning, implementation of services, and program and/or service evaluation.
- f. Environmental Strategy Establishes or changes written and unwritten community standards, codes and attitudes, thereby influencing incidence and prevalence of strategy is divided into two subcategories to permit distinction between activities which center on legal and regulatory initiatives and those which relate to the service and action-oriented initiatives. Environmental strategies are efforts aimed at changing or influencing community standards, institutions, structures, or attitudes that shape individuals' behaviors. Environmental strategies focus on creating an environment that makes it easier for people to act in healthy ways.

- 2. Client(s) A San Bernardino County resident who will be receiving the services as described in the Request for Proposal (RFP).
- 3. Community-Based Process A prevention strategy that establishes or changes written and unwritten community standards, codes and attitudes, thereby influencing the prevalence of substance use disorders. The strategy also enhances the ability of the community to effectively plan and implement prevention services for substance use disorder problems.
- 4. Coalition Member An individual who lives and/or works within their community, who is willing to build relationships, raise awareness, and inform community members about pressing problems, prevention efforts, and engage in social action in their community. Coalition members shall not be employed by the County or local government.
- 5. Cultural Competence The acceptance and understanding of cultural norms and their possible influence on the participant's issues and/or behavior, i.e., using the understanding of the differences between the prevailing social culture and that of the participant's family, to aid in developing individualized supports and services.
- 6. Department of Behavioral Health (DBH) DBH under state law provides mental health and/or substance use disorder treatment and prevention services to County residents. In order to maintain a continuum of care, DBH operates or contracts for the provision of 24-hour residential treatment, non-medical withdrawal management (detoxification) services, Outpatient Treatment services, Intensive Outpatient Treatment (IOT), case management, prevention services, recovery services and crisis and referral services. Community services are provided in all major County metropolitan areas and are readily accessible to County residents.
- 7. Environmental Prevention Priority Areas The Environmental Prevention Priority Areas were identified as high priority, community problem statements to address identified primary prevention problem areas throughout San Bernardino County. Each of the four Environmental Prevention Priority Areas contain problem statements, goals, objectives and strategies. Environmental Prevention Priority Areas include Alcohol Prevention, Cannabis Prevention, Methamphetamine Prevention, and Opioid Prevention and including any emerging substances. Refer to the Strategic (Substance Use Disorder) Prevention Plan for specific goals, objectives and strategies.
- 8. Evidence-based Program Program or collection of practices that has a record of success. That is, there is reliable, trustworthy and valid evidence to suggest that when the program is used with a particular group, the program will advance the consumer in a positive manner.

- 9. High-Rate Users/Binge Drinking Binge drinking is defined as five or more drinks at a single setting (within a few hours) for males and four or more drinks for females.
- 10. Institute of Medicine (IOM) A nonprofit organization specifically created for providing science-based advice on matters of biomedical science, medicine, and health purpose. The IOM was chartered in 1970 as a component of the National Academy of Sciences. The IOM provides a vital service by working outside the framework of government to ensure scientifically informed analysis and independent guidance. The IOM's mission is to serve as adviser to the nation to improve health. The IOM provides unbiased, evidence-based, and authoritative information and advice concerning health and science policy to policy-makers, professionals, leaders in every sector of society, and the public at large.
- 11. Institute of Medicine Categories The chronic care model adopted by the State DHCS that recognizes substance use disorders as a chronic disease. This model (as related to prevention), traditionally developed to delay or avert the onset of behavioral health illnesses, approaches prevention from both the individual, as well as the community level; classifying prevention efforts into three separate categories: Universal, Selective, and Indicated.
 - a. Universal Prevention– Are interventions targeted to the general public, an entire community, or to a whole population group, such as all children in a school or an entire city.
 - b. Selective Prevention Are interventions targeted to individuals, neighborhoods, or subgroups of the whole population with identified risk factors for the development of substance use disorders or problems related to substance use disorders. These populations are placed at higher risk simply by being associated with or classified as part of a high-risk group or location, such as children of substance misusers or neighborhoods with high crime rates and allow easy access to substances of misuse.
 - c. Indicated Prevention Are interventions targeted to areas, individuals or subgroups that are identified as beginning to experience the negative effects of problematic substance misuse; having non-clinical but detectable signs or symptoms foreshadowing substance use disorders.
- 12. Logic Model A Logic Model document serves as a planning tool to clarify and graphically display what the project intends to do and what it hopes to accomplish and impact. A logic model summarizes key program elements, explains the rationale behind program activities, clarifies intended outcomes, and provides a communication tool. A logic model is a map that is developed to clarify and communicate what the project intends to do and its presumed impact.
- 13. Work Plan Work Plan documents provide an outline of tasks to be completed for each identified Environmental Prevention initiative. Work Plans provide an overview

- of identified goals, objectives, target populations, and geographic areas that the Proposer(s) will address with tentative timelines and completion dates per Environmental Prevention Initiative.
- 14. Media Advocacy A strategy that uses the power of the media to advance an environmental prevention agenda. This strategy requires news story development that clearly presents specific substance use disorder problems and the policies and social changes required to resolve them. Media advocacy develops and promotes news-making pieces and opinion-editorials to the media, supports communities in campaigns, plans and conducts media conferences.
- 15. Performance Measure Performance measure is a qualitative or quantitative characterization of performance. Performance measures are important because they help to set goals and standards; detect and correct problems; manage, describe, and improve processes; and document accomplishments.

- 19. Strategic Prevention Framework (SPF) The Strategic Prevention Framework (SPF) developed by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Administration (SAMHSA) is a planning process for preventing substance use and misuse. The SPF provides an evidence-based outcomes approach that reflects Cultural Competence and Sustainability. The Strategic Prevention Framework's effectiveness understands community needs and involves community members in all stages of the planning process. The SPF includes Assessment, Capacity, Planning, Implementation, and Evaluation.
 - a. Assessment Assess population needs, resources, and readiness to address problems and gaps in service delivery.

- b. Capacity Mobilize and/ or build financial and organizational resource capacity to address need; convey partnerships/ coalitions, assess readiness, and improve cultural competency.

- 20. Strategic (Substance Use Disorder) Prevention Plan (SPP) The Strategic Prevention Plan (SPP) document describes the structured delivery of SUD Prevention Services, and an overview of San Bernardino County's problem statements, goals and objectives. The SPP outlines County needs into four Environmental Prevention Priority Areas. The SPP provides an overview of the current County approach to prevention services and activities. The mission of the SPP is to prevent and reduce harms related to alcohol and other drugs throughout San Bernardino County, utilizing the Strategic Prevention Framework. The State, DHCS, requires each County to outline and identify a framework and create a strategic plan for delivery of prevention services.
- 21. Substance Use Disorder (SUD) Substance Use Disorder includes substance use and substance dependence. Substance se is a maladaptive pattern of substance use manifested by recurrent and significant adverse consequences related to the repeated use of substances. Substance dependence is a cluster of cognitive, behavioral, and physiological symptoms indicating that an individual continues use of substances despite significant substance related problems. SUD Services is the provision of services to prevent or reduce the harm of alcohol and other drugs throughout San Bernardino County through community action, education, support, and collaboration.

- 23. Sustainability A prevention component that focuses on sustaining positive outcomes, not sustaining any particular program. Key activities for sustainability involve building support, showing results, and obtaining continuous funding.

D. Background Information

In 1998, both the U.S. Department of Education and the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention proposed that funds allocated for SUD prevention be awarded to programs that are scientifically defensible and performance based. It is, therefore, expected that all prevention programs show evidence of performance based prevention services that are scientifically defensible with measurable results.

DBH develops a strategic plan every five years that is reviewed on an annual basis which outlines the County's approach to SUD prevention services through the use of community-based, environmental prevention strategies. The DBH County Prevention Services are founded on the Strategic Plan for SUD Prevention and hereby incorporated by reference.

Successful environmental prevention services in the County produce effective community-level results through the use of five integrated strategies that produce sustainable outcomes, which include the following:

- Data collection and analysis
- Community organizing
- Policy development based on environmental or community condition change
- Media advocacy, and
- Enforcement

These five strategies are designed to produce changes in the community environment and align with the SUD Prevention Priority Areas: Alcohol Prevention, Cannabis Prevention, Methamphetamine Prevention, and Opioid Prevention. Successful outcomes in prevention efforts have previously been developed through work that employs a logic model that integrates the five strategies into clear prevention campaigns.

E. Program Requirements

- 1. Program services are implemented through community collaborations consisting of prevention service providers, regional community members, and often, key members from law enforcement, school, and other health and social services systems. Within the region, these collaborations work to advance the goals of one or more of the SUD Prevention Priority Areas through specific regional campaign plans. Experience from successful prevention campaigns has also determined that many effective strategies begin in local communities and are then developed into regional, multi-regional and countywide efforts. Consequently, in addition to the regional efforts, the prevention service providers receive and provide support and leadership in planning, developing, and implementing the countywide campaigns for the prevention priority areas.
- 2. Prevention campaigns conducted will include problem identification, data collection and analysis, priority setting, research supported strategy development, establishment of performance measures, program implementation, and evaluation and feedback. Logic Models and Work Plans will describe how each regional/community level prevention service develops local campaign plans in response to a prevention priority area and how the effort works in conjunction with other prevention service providers to implement countywide efforts on behalf of each priority area. In addition, the Logic Models and Work Plans shall describe how the goals will be advanced for each SUD Prevention Priority Area selected using a community based environmental prevention approach and incorporating the five integrated strategies described. The Logic Model and Work Plan includes activities in support of countywide prevention efforts that assist in achieving the overall goals of SUD Prevention Priority Areas.
