Briefly describe the general nature of the contract:

The REACH program is designed to allow University of Redland's (University) students and faculty, who have been cleared by Probation's Volunteer Unit, to supplement the San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools educational curriculum by working with teachers to build mentoring relationships, conduct tutoring and writing workshops, and lead discussions that build emotional literacy, critical thinking and writing skills to Probation minors at the Central Valley Juvenile Detention and Assessment Center (CVJDAC) and at Gateway. The University faculty teach "Inside Out" classes that include students from both Gateway and the University in a shared college classroom, for which Gateway students receive free college credits. REACH sponsors Blank Slate Theater Workshops in Gateway that develops and produces play(s) annually. Student writings may be published by Probation or by The Beat Within, a national magazine for in-custody youth, with the goal of recognizing their work, thereby contributing to the minor's self-expression, self-worth and rehabilitation.
