POST Distance Learning Grant Program

Use of Force and De-escalation

Budget Narrative:

Distance learning is necessary and more important than ever before, especially when given the need for social distancing and decreased funding due to a variety of factors including a global pandemic. The San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department (SBCSD) is committed to meeting the challenges faced today with innovative solutions to reach our law enforcement partners across the state. In order to provide quality distance learning, current capabilities need to be enhanced and updated to meet the ongoing needs of our regional and state partners. Distance learning requires more student engagement and requires the ability to connect and continue the concepts of student-led learning in an online or web-based platform. Currently, the funding is not readily available to make the immediate and necessary improvements to technology for distance learning. The proposed budget will bring the training center to the next level and create a distance learning environment that promotes learning and innovation combined with professional instruction and facilitation. Grant funds will allow for upgrades to set up virtual classrooms that are digitally connected and ready for the future which is now in front of us.

The SBCSD and its Frank Bland Regional Training Center will work to ensure it exceeds its responsibility to serve the needs of law enforcement throughout the state well into the future. The addition of powerful laptop computers with webcams and microphone options will provide quality video and audio performance over the internet on video-transmission platforms. The addition of Smart Boards coupled with the laptops will create a robust virtual classroom with additional tools and resources available to the instructor. Internet connectivity and a video-transmission platform are necessary for distance learning and the equipment used is just as important to carry out the objectives of the project. A subscription for video transmission platforms is required for this project to reach law enforcement across the state. Once these pieces are in place they will provide solutions which will allow us to provide even better service.

The SBCSD currently uses Pathlore by SumTotal for its Learning Management System (LMS). During a feasibility study into the use of the LMS, it was discovered that the system has additional capabilities that would further enhance SBCSD's ability to enroll, assign, track and submit student data to POST. These items represent objectives and requirements for reporting and tracking requirements. The vendor provided a statement of work that would allow for the training of division personnel on the use of the system. Grant funding would enable the training to occur which in turn would allow for further sustainment of training after the grant performance period. Funding for training on the LMS will minimize administrative costs by reducing the amount of time spent generating rosters, excel tracking sheets and identifying who completed training. Robust tracking and reporting capabilities exist, however training needs to be provided. The personnel trained will also be responsible for assisting with grant reporting and will need to be able to access the information efficiently.

The proposed budget would enable the purchase of new, updated software that is used to build computer-based training courses that engage students, check their understanding and enable interactivity with the training. This type of content can be used in the video transmission portion or as a follow-up training and even as a whole training class. The existing application is no longer being supported and we were notified of this prior to the grant being released. The updated version, Articulate 360, allows the division to create innovative evaluation and assessment tools for use in grant activities. Engagement is an important factor in distance learning as it brings the student into the learning. This is a powerful tool and resource to have available however it is expensive. Funding from the grant would enable the purchase and would also provide for the use of the application after grant activities have been completed. Numerous trainings can be created from this application for future use.

Project-funded staff will be assigned to design course content based on existing material. The course will need to be updated to meet the requirements for webinar class certification by POST as well as adjusted to provide a more advanced information for current law enforcement. Staff will need to develop presentation materials electronically, create documentation for POST EDI entry and submission. Staff will convene to identify learning activities and methods of evaluating learning. Staff will speak with subject matter experts (SMEs) to ensure accurate information is provided.

San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department – 2330
POST Distance Learning Grant Program

Staff will identify steps and actions to be taken for the remainder of the grant period. They will develop the course evaluation survey to measure performance and evaluate learning activities and instructor engagement.

Staff will also create a checklist and provide training for using Zoom, our chosen video transmission platform. The training is necessary to show instructors the various menu items and how to share their screen and get used to the environment.

Project staff will also be teaching/facilitating the instruction of the course. The course will be presented approximately sixteen times and will require at least two instructors with one monitoring chats and engagement and the other one teaching.

LMS training is the only foreseeable subcontract or unusual expenditure.

The purchases highlighted and identified for grant funding will allow for self-sufficiency. The training division will have access and training to provide additional presentations of the project class as well as provide the framework to streamline the creation and approval of additional courses to continue meeting the needs of our law enforcement partners well into the future. Project staff will have the expertise to quickly train new distance learning instructors on the setup of the virtual classroom. They will be able to address future needs and develop courses for web-based learning in a much faster manner.

POST Distance Learning Grant Program

Use of Force and De-escalation

Project Narrative

Problem Statement:

Use of Force and De-escalation training is one of the most important topics in law enforcement, especially given current events world-wide. Law enforcement personnel are continuously under the microscope. Their decisions are constantly evaluated, and their actions are recorded. Protests across the country surrounding law enforcement have thrust de-escalation and the use of force to the forefront of issues. Add to that, protests have caused overtime to skyrocket and associated costs heavily impact department budgets. A global pandemic has decimated federal, state, county and city government budgets and is forcing cutbacks. These issues combined with social distancing make in person training difficult and cost prohibitive.

Uses of force is a high liability category. Ensuring adherence to laws and policies are of the utmost priority for line officers and deputies as well as supervisory and command staff. De-escalation training has many misnomers and poor perceptions. It is perceived to have led to hesitation by officers across the country. De-escalation training is costly and not always available. Agencies cannot afford to send multiple officers to training due to travel costs, overtime and the costs of the course. There is a need to provide California law enforcement with the tools to be safe and professional while also building rapport and positive impacts on the communities.

The San Bernardino County Sheriff's Frank Bland Regional Training Center is poised to meet the challenge faced by our law enforcement partners across the state. As a regional training center, we are responsible for providing exceptional law enforcement training. Providing a distance learning Use of Force and De-escalation course that is available to law enforcement personnel across the state allows for continued learning and training even during tough economic times and factors outside our control. We know that even during a pandemic, law enforcement must still serve the community. There are no updated de-escalation online courses widely available and accessible. As a regional training center, we can close the gap. This would enable officers to login and take training from anywhere in the state without incurring travel costs while receiving invaluable training, remotely and maintaining adherence to social distancing to keep the spread of the virus from reaching additional law enforcement officers.

This course will be geared for all sworn law enforcement, no matter their assignment or time on the job. Law enforcement training is crucial, however suffers at the hands of decreased budgets. Training is also impacted by staffing and time. Distance learning will help overcome some of these barriers by making training available from anywhere with computer and internet access in the state.

Plan:

We will use existing curriculum included in POST Learning Domain (LD) 20 and the existing De-escalation and Tactical Communication course under POST course control number (CCN) 20799. The foundational principles taught in LD 20 during the academy provide a framework that has the ability to develop new and seasoned law enforcement officers. The objectives of this course will be:

To provide law enforcement officers with the knowledge and skills to become effective communicators by using case studies and discussion on how to de-escalate various situations.

The student learning objectives of this course are:

San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department – 2330
POST Distance Learning Grant Program
Use of Force and De-escalation

- 1) Provide students with skills to effectively practice the four concepts of de-escalation.
- 2) Enhance student's communication skills through small group activities and observed case studies.
- 3) Place students in a critical thinking mindset to analyze situations and determine the appropriate action and level of force to be used.

Additionally, students will be able to understand the concept of slowing things down without hesitating to take appropriate action by learning the four core concepts of de-escalation. The course will include discussions on the misconceptions of de-escalation as well as its benefits and emphasis how de-escalation occurs regularly through evolution of ideas and concepts including Tactical Communication and Verbal Judo. Students will learn de-escalation does not mean they lose the right to defend themselves or others. In situations where force is the only option to contain the suspect or protect the officer, there cannot be hesitation. In addition to understanding de-escalation and communication, officers must use self-control, assess and manage the scene and determine what force options are available throughout the incident. Due to the potential use of force, the course will review existing constitutional, federal and state laws and general policies relating to the use of force. The course will reinforce the seriousness of using force and the sanctity of human life while addressing the need for communication between officers.

In order to provide this training, the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department (SBCSD) Training Division, through its Advanced Officer Training (AOT) unit, will identify subject matter experts (SMEs) in use of force and de-escalation within the department. In conjunction with those SMEs, AOT will also work with the SMEs to identify training materials, content and appropriate case studies that will be introduced to the students. The training material will be vetted in coordination with the SMEs as well as the determination of course content and length of the course.

In collaboration, the SMEs and AOT will present the course via a videoconference/interactive web-based platform like Zoom®. Using a web-based videoconferencing platform will enable students from across the state to enroll and login into the class. Instructors will have the capabilities to screen share their PowerPoint presentation or other materials with all students. Instructors can conduct small group learning activities using breakout rooms where the group can be divided into small groups in a secondary break out room. Students in these "rooms" can interact and discuss the learning activity and collaborate with each other and the instructor can enter the room to listen and answer questions if needed. Once the time limit for the learning activity has been reached, the instructor will bring everyone back to the main room for discussion. Enabling a "show video" function is mandatory for all students as a method of ensuring attendance and ongoing participation in the class. Roll call will be conducted at the start of the class and compared to the roster generated in the Pathlore Learning Management System (LMS).

Several studies have been undertaken by colleges and universities regarding online class size. The research pointed to a variety of factors including level of instructor participation and types of learning activities conducted. Considering the research combined with existing course enrollment maximum numbers, class size will be 40 students initially with fluctuation adjusted based on student course evaluations and feedback. The determination to start at 40 students per class allows for access to the course as well as more perspectives and experience to be carried into learning activities and case study discussion. We anticipate being able to train 400 law enforcement officers over the course of ten to twelve presentations during the fiscal year.

San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department – 2330
POST Distance Learning Grant Program
Use of Force and De-escalation

As a regional training center, we provide training to San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange, Los Angeles, Inyo and Kern counties on a regular basis. Students from across the state have attended training at AOT, the range and our Emergency Vehicle Operations Center (EVOC). Using web-based training we are making the training accessible to all local and regional partners. The ability to provide a presentation to one agency as a whole is an option, however to meet that need, we would require additional instructors to present on a weekly basis.

Using our existing LMS, we create a “class” in the system which enables us to assign the instructor, enter class dates and times, set enrollment restrictions and limit access to make changes. The class generates a roster based on registration/enrollment requests received via email, through our training division webpage or telephonically. Each person who takes a class with our department is entered into the LMS and receives a unique student ID. The student ID creates a training record for the individual and their POST ID number with their agency and contact information. That person, either already in the system or newly entered, can then be assigned to the class and onto the roster. Our LMS is linked to POST’s Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) and rosters for POST classes are submitted electronically.

To meet POST Regulation 1052(e)(1)(A), once a student is registered for a web-based class, they will receive an email with the Zoom conference number and associated login requirements and instructions. Students will be required to activate their video so they can be seen “live” and must also have audio capabilities.

Course objectives and goals will be explained at the beginning of the class for an understanding of the course objectives, student learning activities, presented course content and case studies. Throughout the class, instructors will ask questions related to the content being discussed and taught. Instructors will evaluate student’s responses to questions as well as their participation and ideas presented in student learning activities. Instructors will also monitor students’ attentiveness via the required enabled video option. Instructors will monitor small groups to ensure understanding and answer questions that arise. The SEE-I (State, Elaborate, Exemplify and Illustrate) method, taught through during POST-approved Academy Instructor Certification Course (AICC) will be used to evaluate student performance and verify learning is taking place to meet POST Regulation 1052(e)(1)(c). The instructors will observe the above metrics based on video transmission on the Zoom platform.

To enable students the opportunity to provide feedback on their experience in the course, AOT will use an online survey tool with written responses to questions regarding:

- the course content,
- ease of accessing the course,
- ability to communicate and interact with the instructors
- technical difficulties
- areas for improvement
- what went well

In addition to written responses several questions will require a rating on a defined increasing numeric scale addressing:

- quality of instruction
- quality of content
- quality of presentation

San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department – 2330
POST Distance Learning Grant Program
Use of Force and De-escalation

- quality of video/audio streaming
- quality of overall online learning experience

The online survey will be tracked by the instructor as a method of assessing the class and content.

Capabilities:

The SBCSD's Frank Bland Regional Training Center utilizes SMEs from within the SBCSD as well as from outside regional agencies and partners. Instructors meet and consistently exceed required training as well as have operational experience to provide high quality, professional instruction to all our students and stakeholders. Our instructors for this course have worked numerous assignments from corrections to patrol and traffic to narcotics. One is currently a sergeant with 24 years of experience and the other is deputy with five years of experience. This combination of experience and assignments allows for them engage a wide variety of students from brand new officers and deputies to seasoned veterans.

The SBCSD has developed a De-escalation and Tactical Communication course that is POST-approved under CCN 20799. This course was postponed due to the current pandemic however it is ready for presentation with a class scheduled for August 2020. The instructors, content, rosters and students are enrolled.

We have provided law enforcement training to the region since 1971. In 2021 the training center will enjoy its 50th year of service. We are currently presenting our 220th session of our POST Basic Academy. Our Advanced Officer Training unit presents 60 classes throughout the calendar year including a full range of traffic collision investigation classes, leadership and supervisory development classes including the 80hr POST Supervisory course, AICC, homicide investigations and numerous other courses designed and presented by SMEs, training specialists and assigned sworn personnel. The Range presents 34 courses including eight recently developed and POST-approved courses. Our EVOC presents 16 classes including providing Basic Driver Training to 9 POST Basic Academies in the region, including our own. EVOC presented training to personnel from 60 different law enforcement agencies in fiscal year 2020. We also present 12 courses for dispatchers which brings the total number of POST-approved classes that have been developed and delivered to law enforcement personnel across the state to 125 classes.

Currently CCN 20799 is an approved course for SBCSD in POST's EDI. We have course content and material to present as well have an expanded course outline (ECO), hourly breakdown, training needs assessment and instructors already approved. We have four classrooms to seat anywhere from 20-40 students each and now during social distancing we have increased spacing in the event we needed to present in-person. Currently we have set up Zoom as the platform for teaching web-based classes, live.

Using a database of regional and state partners, we send out training flyers for classes presented at AOT, the Range and EVOC. Our classes are posted on POST's website in the course catalog as well on our department website: <https://wp.sbcounty.gov/sheriff/divisions/training/advanced-officer-courses/>. Anyone wishing to register for a class may email directly or complete the training request form on the page and click the "Registration Request" button to send the request to our AOT staff. We also utilize our regional training group which is comprised of agencies from the region who meet to discuss training needs.

Over the years, SBCSD has been awarded grants from varying entities for a variety of programs. We have performed the grant activities, administered the funds effectively and efficiently over the course of the grant. Funds have been distributed over the length of the grant period.

7. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Frank Bland Regional Training Center provides training to regional and state of California law enforcement agencies.

8. PROBLEM STATEMENT

The San Bernardino County Sheriff's Frank Bland Regional Training Center is poised to meet the challenge faced by our law enforcement partners across the state. As a regional training center, we are responsible for providing exceptional law enforcement training. Providing a distance learning Community Policing course that is available to law enforcement personnel across the state allows for continued learning and training, even during tough economic times and factors outside our control. We realize during a pandemic, law enforcement must still serve the community. There are no updated community policing online courses widely available and accessible. As a regional training center, we can close the gap. This would enable officers to login and take training from anywhere in the state without incurring travel costs. The officers would have the ability to receive invaluable training remotely while adhering to social distancing

9. OBJECTIVES

The project objectives are to develop distance learning course to be presented via a live video transmission service (such as Zoom). The course will be developed based on current curriculum certified by POST. Law enforcement from across the state can register with our agency and be entered onto a roster. Students will be emailed a confirmation and instructions to login to the class on the assigned date and time using a login credential that was included in the confirmation email.

Instructors will present and screen share so presentations can be seen by all students. Roll call and visual confirmation (video function is required to be enabled)

10. ACTIVITIES

Development of course materials, contract for video transmission (web video conferencing platform), instruction, facilitation, grant reporting, set up of instructor location with proctor (computer, microphone, camera), access to presentations.
