and social needs in order to improve depression care for older adults. Goals of this collaboration include improving care for older adults with depression through primary care and community based organization partnerships; formulating innovative strategies/projects to address patients' medical, behavioral, and social care needs; building capacity for implementation and practice change; creating a community network for shared learning and best practices among other California sites; accessing expert, customized training and support; and gaining knowledge and building capacity across collaborative learning goals. DAAS' Office of the Public Guardian (PG) will use the grant funding to support DAAS' Age Wise program in collaboration with Lifestyle Medical in Redlands.

DAAS' Age Wise program is a community-based mental health program for older adults, age 59 and over, who benefit from behavioral health, wellness services, and resources to help meet and sustain an independent lifestyle. Services include in-home and telehealth counseling services, case management, peer and family advocacy, and support and education groups provided throughout San Bernardino County. The goal of the Age Wise program is to help individuals maintain the best possible behavioral and physical health in order to increase the ability to sustain independent living and well-being. Referrals and consultation are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to individuals, families, and agencies working with older adults.

Lifestyle Medical is a value based primary care clinic that starts with a new foundation of care based on the principles of Lifestyle Medicine. Specifically, Lifestyle Medical works on building and balancing four pillars of wellness - nourishment, movement, resilience (sleep and stress) and connectedness (horizontal and vertical) in patients. This gives patients the core health aspects needed for their bodies to prevent and overcome chronic diseases and other health challenges.

Upon Board approval of the grant award, DAAS-PG will collaborate with Lifestyle Medical to expand behavioral health services with a focus on decreasing the costs associated with treatment, improving clinical outcomes and reported client satisfaction with treatment. The Age Wise program will benefit by having the expertise of licensed medical doctors specializing in treating the physical and medical needs of geriatric patients. The collaboration of patient care in order to meet the complex biopsychosocial needs of our aging population, will benefit both professional agencies and, most importantly, older adult consumers.
